

The Bardwell Press is an independent publisher of academic books based in Oxford, UK. It specialises in books in the social sciences and in particular in bringing the work of European social theorists and researchers to a wider English-speaking audience especially through its two major series: the GEMAS Studies in Social Analysis and the European Studies in Social Theory series.

Agent-based Modelling and Simulation in the Social and Human Sciences

Edited by Denis Phan & Frédéric Amblard

GEMAS Studies in Social Analysis
£90.00, hardback, 448pp, ISBN: 978-1-905622-01-6

This volume brings together contributions from leading researchers in the field of agent-based modelling and simulation.

Boundless Youth: Studies in the Transition to Adulthood

By Olivier Galland

GEMAS Studies in Social Analysis
£60.00, hardback, 192pp, ISBN: 978-0-9548683-7-6

Olivier Galland argues forcefully for the continued relevance of a distinctive age group we can call “youth” despite its changing and increasingly diffuse character.

Durkheim and the Puzzle of Social Complexity

By Mohamed Cherkaoui

GEMAS Studies in Social Analysis
£60.00, hardback, 232pp, ISBN: 978-1-905622-05-4

In this remarkable defence of Durkheimian social theory, Mohamed Cherkaoui analyses the relevance of the great French sociologist’s ideas for understanding contemporary society.

The Economic Consequences of Mr. Brown: How a Strong Government was Defeated by a Weak System of Governance

By Stein Ringen

£5.95, Hardback, 64pp, ISBN: 978-1-905622-24-5

Professor Ringen analyses the economic policies of New Labour from fiscal management to outcomes in child poverty, health, crime, education, and inequality and concludes that the lesson of New Labour is that Britain needs, more than a new government, a new constitution.

Family and Housing: Recent Trends in France and Southern Europe

Edited by Catherine Bonvalet, Valérie Laflamme, Denise Arbonville

GEMAS Studies in Social Analysis
£70.00, hardback, 344pp, ISBN: 978-1-905622-19-1

This important new comparative research study of housing and family is distinctive because it takes France and southern Europe as its focus.

The Foundations of the Social: Between Critical Theory and Reflexive Sociology

By Simon Susen

European Studies in Social Theory
£75.00, Hardback, 360pp, ISBN 978-1-905622-12-2

This examination of the concept of the social in contemporary critical thought draws upon the work of Jürgen Habermas and Pierre Bourdieu, and offers a model for the reconstruction of Habermasian critical theory and Bourdieusian reflexive sociology.

Good Intentions: Max Weber and the Paradox of Unintended Consequences

By Mohamed Cherkaoui

GEMAS Studies in Social Analysis
£60.00, hardback, 256pp, ISBN: 978-0-9548683-9-0

Taking his cue from Max Weber’s seminal insights into unintended consequences, Mohamed Cherkaoui explores this paradoxical world where good intentions so often produce the unexpected.

Invisible Codes: Essays on Generative Mechanisms

By Mohamed Cherkaoui

GEMAS Studies in Social Analysis
£55.00, hardback, 196pp, ISBN: 0-9548683-2-3

Invisible Codes is a path-breaking book about the concept of social or generative mechanisms. It deals with a problem long evident in sociological explanation, the ‘macro-micro’ dilemma.

The Liberal Vision and Other Essays on Democracy and Progress

By Stein Ringen

GEMAS Studies in Social Analysis
£60.00, hardback, 224pp, ISBN: 978-1-905622-04-7

This book is the product of a battle to restore the importance of simplicity, of realism and of good sense in the study of democracy, outlining many topics essential to the analysis and direction of political life.

Morocco and the Sahara: Social Bonds and Geopolitical Issues

By Mohamed Cherkaoui

£10.00, Hardback, 224pp, ISBN: 978-1-905622-13-9

This careful and well-informed study by a leading sociologist explores key questions about Morocco and its relations with the Western Sahara. The strategies of the main actors are discussed, and the underlying game theories that explain their actions are analysed in regional and international contexts.

On Bourdieu, Education and Society

By Derek Robbins

£75.00, Hardback, 624pp, ISBN: 0-9548683-6-6

A collection of 25 influential articles by Derek Robbins, one of Britain’s leading scholars on Pierre Bourdieu.

The Poverty of Relativism

By Raymond Boudon

GEMAS Studies in Social Analysis
£45.00, hardback, 224pp, ISBN: 0-9548683-0-7

A timely and critical evaluation of a dominant trend in modern social science, evident in intellectual movements from structuralism to postmodernism and social constructionism.

Pragmatism and European Social Theory

Edited by Patrick Baert and Bryan S. Turner

European Studies in Social Theory
£60.00, Hardback, 192pp, ISBN 978-1-905622-00-9

Pragmatism and European Social Theory questions the assertion that pragmatism was committed to clarity and simplicity of its ideas, in contrast to European social theory, seen by its critics as deliberately vague, abstract and obscure by showing how pragmatism influenced both classical and modern social theory.

Raymond Boudon: A Life in Sociology - Essays in Honour of Raymond Boudon

Edited by Mohamed Cherkaoui & Peter Hamilton

£525.00, 4 volumes, Hardback in slipcase, 1624pp,
ISBN: 978-1-905622-18-4

This Festschrift has been prepared to celebrate the life and work of Raymond Boudon. It provides 83 articles by a cross-section of the world's leading sociologists, social scientists and philosophers who offer analytical essays that explore and evaluate aspects of his many contributions to the understanding of contemporary society.

Religious Diversity and Civil Society: A Comparative Analysis

Edited by Bryan S. Turner

£60.00, Hardback, 208pp, ISBN: 978-1-905622-11-5

This collection of essays by leading scholars focuses on how societies that are culturally and ethnically diverse can be more difficult to govern than those that are homogenous, and how globalization, particularly of religion, makes these problems increasingly endemic, global and potentially catastrophic.

Research-Technology and Cultural Change: Instrumentation, Genericity, Transversality

By Terry Shinn

GEMAS Studies in Social Analysis
£60.00, hardback, 216pp, ISBN: 978-1-905622-06-1

This book outlines a new perspective on the history and sociology of science that places the devices and instruments of scientific measurement, and the people who design and develop them, at the centre of study.

Rights and Virtues: Political Essays on Citizenship and Social Justice

By Bryan S. Turner

GEMAS Studies in Social Analysis
£70.00, hardback, 312pp, ISBN: 978-1-905622-08-5

The subjects covered in this major work include the debate about modern citizenship inspired by T.H. Marshall, the globalisation of human rights, national sovereignty, the relationship between religion and conceptions of rights, participation and exclusion, and the concept of social virtue.

Tocqueville for Today

By Raymond Boudon

GEMAS Studies in Social Analysis
£50.00, hardback, 160pp, ISBN: 0-9548683-5-8

A lucid and illuminating account of the relevance to our understanding of contemporary society of the work of one of France's greatest and most original thinkers, Alexis de Tocqueville.

Tracing the Criminal: The Rise of Scientific Criminology in Britain, 1860-1918

By Neil Davie

£65.00, Hardback, 304pp, ISBN: 0-9548683-1

Tracing the Criminal recounts the history of the emergence of 'scientific' criminology in Britain during the period 1860-1918. It shows how it developed from the prevalent view that criminals constituted a sub-category of the human race whose differences were accessible to scientific investigation.
